DOINGS IN BARKER DISTRICT

Removing Rich Ore From One of the Oldest Mines in the Camp
—News From Idaho City.

From the Belt Mountain Miner.

For the last month and a half the Barker has been increasing the number of men employed and its output week by week until it now has a force of 43 men at work, and an output of two and a half carloads per week. This property was one of the first discovered in camp, having been located by Buck Barker about eleven years ago. The original discoverer did little else than a small amount of assessment work, and about eight years ago it got into the hands of other parties, who sank a shaft 80 feet deep back where the timber house now is and stopped out considerable ore, which was shipped to the Clendenen smelter then running here. But owing to the distance that it was then necessary to ship bullion and the low price of lead, mining in Barker did not pay very well, and when the smelter and the other properties shut down the Barker was likewise compelled to stop work. Nothing more was done with the property until a year ago last October, when the present tunnel was started, and since then work has been continuous up to the present, with the exception of a short time last fall when work was stopped while the hoist and pump were being put in. The real work on the mine, however, was only commenced about the first of January this year, when the present superintendent, W. C. Stanley, took charge. The tunnel is now in about 100 feet and the shaft down 180 feet. About a month ago they started running two levels in on the vein, one at 120 and the other at 180 feet, and from these two levels ore is now being stopped. The vein averages about 20 inches in width. Where they are at present working it is 24 inches wide. As herein stated, about 50 tons of ore per week is now being taken out. It nets the company about $50 per ton, after paying freight and smelting charges, and as it costs only $25 per ton to get it out and ready for shipment, the company are thus making a clear profit of $25 per ton, or $5,000 per month at the present rate of shipment. The mine has more than paid its way since the first of January, and during that time a great deal of development work has been done. All ore taken out is sent to the Kansas City Smelting & Refining company, which company said to give very satisfactory returns to its patrons. At present the ore is all sorted over by hand, four men being constantly employed at this work, and they cannot keep up with production. It is the intention of the company, however, to erect a concentrator with a capacity of 20 tons of ore a day in the near future, when all hand sorting will be done away with. It is thought that the saving in labor alone will pay the expenses of running the concentrator, and a large amount of ore that is now necessarily lost can be saved. The principal owners in the Barker are T. C. Power, Paris Gibson and C. N. Lawrence of Seattle. They have shown good judgment and perseverance in their work on this property, and are now reaping a reward that is second in comparison to what it will undoubtedly be in the future. Superintendent Stanley is enthusiastic over the future of the mine under his charge, and much of its present prosperity is undoubtedly owing to his capable management.

FROM IDAHO CITY.

High Grade Ore From the Express Mine Getting Ready to Prospekt.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.
IDAHO CITY, Idaho, April 18.—The STANDARD's correspondent has seen some very rich ore from the Express mine, at Grimes' creek, four miles above Pioneer, owned by Matt and Linn Davis. It is iron sulphides, carbonates and galena. The ore has a very fine appearance, but is too rich to be worked in stamp mills. It will have to be smelted, but no doubt can easily be concentrated, so as to make the cost of shipping light.

Henry Whitney has a good force of men at work in the Queen of the Mountains mine, near Pioneerville.

Several more placer claims have commenced working the past week.

M. P. Lavie and John McCarty have a quartz mine in Lager flow gulch, Cambrinus district, that prospects well in free gold. They intend doing a good deal of development work on it this year.

Several prospectors will soon go to the Deadwood and Sheep Mountain districts to try their luck.

The Elmina mill at Banner is now turning 100-pound bars of fine silver bullion per day.

J. J. Smith, manager of the Idaho & Milwaukee Mining company, is here and will remain two months examining the mines and testing ores of the county.

Many here are still anxiously waiting to learn whether the extensive process for working sulphurates, in operation at Quartzburg, is what is claimed for it. The operators have been working sulphurates from the Gold Hill mine for several weeks, but nothing can be learned as to whether it is successful.

A Successful Mission.

MONTREAL, April 18.—Members of the Paulist Fathers of New York tonight concluded a monster mission, during the progress of which more than 50,000 people signed the total abstinence pledge, and 54 converts were received into the church. The denouncement of the city authorities for not enforcing the liquor laws by the fathers in the presence of the mayor and a number of prominent officials produced such a sensation that the mayor and other officials signed the pledge. A large sum of money was collected during the mission to assist in educating young Catholic missionaries at the Catholic university in Washington, D. C.

A MORPHINE FIEND.

The Paige-Huntington Mystery Deepens
The Former Hiding in Dresden.

DRESDEN, April 18.—Col. David B. Paige, of Paige, Carey & Co. of New York, who it has been charged has a guilty knowledge of the forged indorsements of John Huntington on certain notes said to be held by certain banks in Cleveland and elsewhere, is supposed to be in hiding in this city waiting for a chance to appeal to Mrs. Huntington for mercy. Vague stories are afloat concerning Mr. Huntington and his medical attendant, Dr. Abnett, an American, who has been to his patient half nurse and half doctor.

Mr. Huntington arrived here a month ago with his wife, a friend and Dr. Abnett. Mr. Huntington soon became critically ill. Eminent physicians who were called in said that, besides other disorders, he was suffering from habitual doses of morphine. It was decided to send him to a private hospital, but to this Dr. Abnett strenuously objected. He seemed to have strong influence over Mr. Huntington. Many exciting scenes are said to have occurred before he was finally taken to the hospital and placed under the care of Dr. Hoeltze. In fact it was found necessary to call upon a prominent American to interfere on behalf of Mrs. Huntington before Mr. Huntington could be removed.

Finally Mrs. Huntington paid Dr. Abnett $3,000 to leave her husband. Mr. Huntington is now said to have recovered from the effects of the morphine. He is suffering from abscesses of the hips and has been reduced to a skeleton. Mr. Hoeltze, his son-in-law, practically admits the truth of the morphine story, but says that the drug was ordered by Mr. Huntington's physicians, and that Mrs. Huntington voluntarily paid Dr. Abnett to return to America.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Ups and Downs in Market Values on the Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The bullish feeling in the stock market increased today, centering principally in coal stocks. The particular strong point, however, was Western Union, which was helped by heavy buying. Heavy realizations in the afternoon caused material reaction, but the market closed generally at something better than first prices. Western Union is up 1/2.

A Lumberman's Rendezvous.

This term might be applied to Stevens Point, located on the Wisconsin Central line, at the gateway to the vast forest region which extends north to Lake Superior, a distance of 200 miles without a break, on account of its vast lumber interests. The Wisconsin river, to which the lumbermen have given the familiar and somewhat affectionate title of "Old Wisconsin," not alone acts as a lumber feeder to the city by furnishing through its numerous tributaries an outlet for thousands of acres of pine in upper country, but it furnishes a water power that is second to that only of Neenah and Menasha, which cities are also located on the "Central." Millions of feet of lumber are cut every year, giving employment to hundreds of men. In addition to the lumber trade, it has numerous other manufacturing industries; it is here where the large car shops of the Wisconsin Central lines are located.

It is an accepted fact that America is more lavish in the matter of hospitality and entertaining than any other country. In the matter of flowers alone at entertainments the Americans spend small fortunes.

Only two congregations of the Armenian church are in this country—one at Worcester, Mass., and the other at Hoboken. That at Worcester grew out of what was perhaps the earliest immigration of Armenians to America.

IDAHO CITY DOINGS.

Deserted His Wife and Lives With Another Woman.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

IDAHO CITY, Idaho, April 18.—E. W. Barry, the assayer for the Elmina company, at Banner, who has been very ill for a week, is now considered out of danger.

It is believed that the project for building a railroad from Boise City to this place will take tangible shape. The moneyed men and leading citizens of Boise are becoming very much interested in the matter.

The Davis brothers, merchants of this place, have purchased of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Small and Frank Simp, the brick building in which they are carrying on their business.

The poll taxes for this year in this county amount to $9.

A few months ago a man named Perkins left his wife and skipped out from Squaw creek with a young girl. Nothing was heard of him until one of the neighbors received a letter from the girl asking whether Perkins was there, as he had unceremoniously left her. A few days after the receipt of this letter Perkins made his appearance at the home of his deserted wife and implored her to receive him back, but she persistently and firmly refused, when he again left, most likely to return to the girl with whom he had eloped and afterwards deserted. It may have been better for him that he left Squaw creek on the same night of his return, as the hayseeds in that section had begun to mingle with each other and talk of tar and feathers.

AN ALARM FOR POISONS.

Contrivance That Rings a Bell When a Bottle is Taken Up.

A medical correspondent of the Lancet says: When reading an account of Mr. Menzell's bottle stand, by which the inadvertent use of poisonous drugs may be avoided, a very ingenious electrical contrivance which I saw about two years ago in the establishment of a chemist at a well-known seaside resort was called to my mind. Under each bottle containing a poisonous substance, as it stood on its shelf, was placed a small metallic disc, which was connected by a wire with a battery. When a bottle was removed a bell was immediately rung, and continued ringing until the bottle was replaced, thus giving unmistakable evidence of the fact that a poisonous drug had been touched. In a word, the action was that of an ordinary electric bell reversed, i. e., the bell rang when pressure on the disc (caused by the weight of the bottle) was removed, and vice versa.
